ELEGANT GERMAN
JEFFERSON PARK

Joined by Tallyho Party, and Delicious Supper After the Dance.

COLONIAL FETE DURING WEEK

A Beautiful Drive to Farmington—Cards Still Prevail.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
JEFFERSON PARK HOTEL, VA., September 8.—One whole week of glorious moonlight has brought a large number of visitors to the park in the evenings to participate in the dancing and the germane.

On Wednesday evening a very pretty german was danced at the pavilion, about twenty-five couples participating. A delicious supper was served at midnight, and it was not until after 2 o'clock that the tallyho taking the crowd to town, left the hotel.

A "Colonial Fete," given at "Farmington," Wood's Crossing, Albemarle, for the benefit of the "Mountain Mission," was attended by a number of the hotel guests. The drive to "Farmington," about five miles, lies through one of the most beautiful parts of the Piedmont section, and "Farmington" itself is one of the most places of Albemarle.
It consists of one thousand acres, and the situation is superb. From every window and gallery one gets a view of exquisite mountain scenery. The lawn is an ideal spot for a fete, and the many handsome women and beautiful girls, picturesquely attired in bewitching colonial costumes, serving delicacies and refreshments of every description, made a picture entirely lovely.

One of the most delightful features of the entertainment was the musical program. Two exquisite solos, "The Last Rose of Summer," and "Good-bye to Summer," sung by Miss Bettie Booker, formerly of Richmond, accompanied by Miss Rosalie Thornton, of the University, two very beautiful songs by Miss Elsie Boykin, of Richmond, and two piano solos by Miss Rosalie Thornton. There were also several numbers rendered by a very fine quartette, and some recitations by Mr. Blackford, of Lynchburg.
Altogether the fete was a great success, and the drive home in the glorious sunset made one feel glad to be alive. "Farmington" is the home of Mrs. Warner Woods, a charming, hospitable Virginian of the old school. She possesses the charm of making even the veriest stranger feel most heartily welcome within her gates.

The lovers of cards, those who prefer a "deep" game of bridge to the loveliest of mountain walks, spend several hours at a time on the cool, shady verandas absorbed in the "science of card playing." There are a number of excellent bridge players here, who, when playing, so the courte parties have been forced to "take a back seat."

Miss Alice Thompson, of Baltimore, Md., who has been spending the summer here, returned to her home on Tuesday, much to the regret of her many warm friends here. She is one of the most popular and charming women who have been at the Park this summer, and we were very sorry to see her go.

Mrs. Virginia Wolfe, of Skyland, N. C., left on Tuesday for Skyland, N. C., to join her son, Mr. Hudson Wolfe, and his family, who are spending a few weeks there. Mrs. Wolfe has spent almost the entire summer here where she won for herself a host of admiring friends, who were very sorry to part with her.

Mrs. Walter Allen, of Shreveport, La., with her little son and daughter, have come to us for the remainder of the season. Mrs. Allen has spent a part of the season here, where she has made many friends, who are glad to welcome her back again.

Mrs. and Mr. W. L. Massey, Miss Lucile and Master Raymond Massey, of Richmond, are among the latest arrivals.

Mr. L. G. Laughlin, of New Orleans, La., is here on his first visit to Virginia. Mr. Laughlin is a delightful and is an attractive addition to our party.

Mrs. R. L. Van Diver and Master John Dever, of Richmond, spent Monday here, with Mrs.
Van Diver's sister, Mrs. H. M. Boykin, and Miss Rose Marks, of Richmond, who are spending the summer here.

Miss Olive Gibson, of Richmond, is here on a visit to Mrs. R. H. Norment.
Miss Gibson is very petite, very attractive and very much admired here.

Miss Annie Simpson, of Wilson, N. C., is spending the month of September here.
Miss Simpson is not a stranger at the Park, having been here before. She is very enthusiastic over the mountain view and delicious air, and she delights in a five or ten mile horseback ride before breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Beaman, Jr., Miss Beaman and Mr. Robert P. Beaman stopped here for several days this week on their way home.

Jefferson Park is one of the few mountain resorts whose season does not close until the middle of October, and each day brings us a number of "city folk," "who will not go home until they have to," to spend two of the most delightful and beautiful months of the year here.

SEPTEMBER AT
THE OLD WHITE

High-bred Courtesy Reigns Supreme and Remaining Guests Enjoy the Season.

THE RICHMOND FAITHFUL

Elegant and Delightful Entertainments in the Picturesque Cottages.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GREENBRIER WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. VA., September 8.—Guests at the White Sulphur have certainly enjoyed the most delicious weather on the footstool this summer. These glorious days that mark the passing of the roses and the first flush on the leaves, are simply incomparable.

The crowd has thinned out considerably, but the remaining guests are still having a merry time. The high-bred courtesy of the Old South reigns supreme here, and one of our charming women guests remarked that a season at the Old White was a liberal education in the fine art of making one's self agreeable.

Among the popular habitues of the Springs are Col. John P. Branch, of Richmond, Va., and his lovely daughter. They have a picturesque cottage perched on the mountain-side and adjoining that occupied by our queen of hostesses, Mrs.
Rawlins Lowndes.

Miss Foss, of Boston, is a personal friend of Miss Branch. She possesses a magnificent voice, and last evening delighted all by her singing of "The Flaming Heart" and that exquisite arrangement of James Whitcomb Riley's little lyric, "Don't Cry, Little Girl, Don't Cry."

Mrs. Rawlins Lowndes entertained delightfully this week. The floral decorations were a striking feature. Every detail of the season was served. There was rich old fruit cake made at her home in Charleston, S. C., while the delicious tea grown in the same State was so fragrant that I am certain not even the most loyal American would have had the heart to throw it overboard.

Another attractive social affair was a charming dinner, given on the porch of her cottage, by Miss Marie Potts, of Cincinnati. The guests of honor were three of Camp Greenbrier's most popular men, Messrs. Holliday Seiple, Stephen Grandorf and Mead Robinson, all of Louisville. The decorations of Japanese lanterns, flowers and trailing vines on the veranda, made a pretty framing for the brilliant moving pictures of joyous helles and beaux.

A distinguished representation from Richmond are here now, Dr. and Mrs.
George Ben Johnston, accompanied by their four beautiful daughters—Helen, Anne Hoy, Nicol and bright little Susanne Roy.

Cincinnati is represented at present by Mrs. E. L. Thomas, one of the society leaders of that city, who is here with her two nieces, Misses F. B. and Caroline Lehner. The former is a magnificent looking young woman, with her glowing dark eyes and prematurely silver-locks. She is vice-president of the Cincinnati Dames in her city, and a charter member of the society, founded twelve years ago.

Miss Caroline Lehner delights in the society of artists, and is quite a recognized authority in matters artistic. In fact, when competitive exhibitions of this kind are held in Cincinnati she is usually on the jury appointed to make the awards.

Mrs. John Gordon, of Paris, Texas, gave a delightful six-hour dinner, at which the prizes were remarkably handsome.

Mrs. F. H. Kendall, of Columbia, S. C., was the hostess of a brilliant seven-hour supper given by way of a P. P. C. on the eve of her departure, and still another party at which Mrs. Paul Fitzsimons of Washington, was the hostess.

Mrs. Fitzsimons is the wife of Dr. Fitzsimons, Medical Director of the Navy.
She is a beautiful woman, with the figure of a "Venus de Milo" and the most exquisite gold tinted hair.

Gladsome Notes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
GLADSTONE, VA., September 8.—Mr.
Herman Smith, of Richmond, is visiting Mrs. C. P. Mason and family.

Misses Nellie Payne and Florine Harriss leave this week for Hinton, W. Va., where they will be the guests of Mrs.
E. R. Early for several weeks.

Mrs. Clarence Jones, of Richmond, has taken charge of "The Gladstone" as "pro-prioress." Mr. K. H. Smith, former pro-prioress, having resigned and returned to his farm in Appalachia.

Mr. W. D. Hysom, of the engineer corps here, returned to Richmond this week.

Mr. V. H. Reed, secretary of the Y.
M. C. A., has just returned from Springfield, Mo., bringing his charming and attractive little wife with him, who will be quite an addition to our society here.

Mr. S. P. Smith has been in Richmond this week purchasing his fall stock.

LARGE COMPANY
AT CHALYBEATE

Lose a Big Bunch, But Two Hundred Guests Continue to Make it Lively.

OUTDOOR SPORTS INVITING

Tableaux for Church Building a Success, and Bring Good Results.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
SWEET CHALYBEATE, VA., September 8.—Never in all its history has the Sweet Chalybeate Springs been so crowded as has been the case this season, and although the exodus which usually occurs at mountain resorts during the last week in August, there are still over two hundred remaining. People are staying on with a persistence unequalled heretofore, and each day brings additional arrivals.

July and August have been unusually easy, and now September is making a record for itself in the number of guests booked for the entire month, as well as in the many social happenings.

Cards came in afresh with September, and sharp contests are waged for the handsome prizes awarded.

Walking, riding and driving are much indulged in since the rain has ceased, and the sun looks forth with glad and golden rays.

On Sunday evening the orchestra gave an artistically rendered and enthusiastically applauded musicale.

Mr. Kevill Glennon, of Norfolk, entertained a number of friends at a charming dinner.

Little Elizabeth Bryan had a gathering of the wee tot of the Springs, in honor of her third birthday.

The tableaux which were given by the "Redeemers All Society" netted quite a sum to be added to the fund, which is already provided for the erection of a church building at this place in the near future.

These beautiful pictures, the most striking perhaps was "Capt. Among the Flowers," as arranged by Miss Caldwell, of South Carolina.

Major Huger, also of Charleston, S. C., made a most awe-inspiring "Blue Beard," while Miss Ennis, of Texas, as the unfortunate wife, was the very personification of terror.

"The Spinning Song," gotten up by Mrs.
W. V. Old, of Norfolk, was charming.

Mrs. Jane Rutherford, of Richmond, Miss Wilson, of Charleston, W. Va., and Mr.
Haines, of Florida, taking part.

"The Gold Dust Twins" and "Pearl's Song" were mirth-inspiring.

"Ancient and Modern Love," as personated by Misses Fields and Hall, and Messrs. Wainwright and Van Diver, exhibited the strong contrast between the demure damsel and the free and easy man of these modern days. "Under the Mistletoe" was enacted by Mrs. Chester Scott, of Norfolk, and Mr. David Chalmers, of Alexandria, who made a charming bridal couple. The transformation of the youthful groom into the decrepit old man, who found the clothes of his long-lost bride in the chest, was thrilling.

Between the scenes instrumental and social solos were given by Mr. Tilden, of Richmond, and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Among the Virginia arrivals during the past week are Dr. A. C. Jones and wife, Covington, Va.; Mrs. George E. Crawford, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. M. J. Wray, of Richmond, Va.; Mr. J. T. Wray, Mr. S. B.
Woodfin, R. J. Peters, Miss Salmons, Miss Hancock, Miss Sulphur, W. Va.; Rufus Kern, Portsmouth, Va.; Mr. John Keweenaw, wife and four children, Norfolk, Va.; Miss Mildred Ricketts, Norfolk, Va.; Mr. St. George Anderson, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. M. J. Wray, Miss Lafayette Scott, of Norfolk, Va.; Mr. H. A.
Williams, Richmond, Va.

A Remarkable Relic.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
FREDERICKSBURG, VA., September 8.— Colonel James A. Turner, of this city, has a remarkable relic of the Civil War.
It was recently picked up on the "Bloody Angle" battlefield, near "Spotsylvania Courthouse," twelve miles from this city.

It consists of a Federal bullet imbedded in the big end of a ramrod of a gun.
The gun is supposed to have been held to the shoulder by a Confederate soldier, who, in the act of firing, when the Federal bullet struck the big end of the ramrod squarely and became fixed.

The ramrod is bent for several inches. It is known to be a Federal bullet, as the bullet used by the Federals had three rings around them, and those used by the Confederates had only two. The bullet in the ramrod, while battered and three rings, which can be plainly seen.

BRANDON HOTEL
CONTINUES GAY

A Brilliant Card Party, a la Japanese, by Mrs. I. N. Jones, of Richmond.

A MOONLIGHT MUSICAL

Progressive Euchre Still Holds First Place as Entertainment.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
THE BRANDON HOTEL, BASIC CITY, VA., September 8.—The past week at Hotel Brandon has been quite to the mark in gaiety, perhaps a little bit ahead of August, and entertainments have come thick and fast.

Thursday night witnessed perhaps the handsomest entertainment of the season's card party, a la Japanese, given by Mrs. I. N. Jones, of Richmond, and Mrs. James Rutherford, of Richmond.

The ball-room was decorated in green, a large table at the upper end being spread with their unique Japanese favors of variety too great to enumerate, and as the game progressed the many beautiful kawaii ladies presented an interesting appearance, decorated with bugs, spiders, snail little Japanese babies, fans, lanterns and tiny animals. Not the least attractive feature was the group of young girls, in Japanese costumes of flowered silk, their soft hair piled in the high Jap. coiffure, and a big aster above each ear.

Those who served the fete and kept the score, were Misses Olive Manson, of New Orleans; Miss Pariah, Jan-ette Moore, Katherine Robinson and Estelle Lacy, of Richmond. Delicious refreshments were served from the hotel. The prizes were very handsome and in keeping with the scheme. The first a Japanese plate, was out for by Mrs. Wander, of Ohio; Miss Langston, of California; Mrs. Drewry, of Virginia, and Miss Gifford, of Arizona. It was won by Mrs. Webster and presented by her to Mrs. J. M. Pugh as guest of honor.

The first gentlemen's prize fell to Mr.
Greenhouse Johnson, of Richmond, a Japanese dagger, in a carved ivory sheath.
Miss Lige Gowan, of Washington, won the lovely prize, a big red papier-mache holster. Some of those playing were Messames Jordan, Washington; Nash, Moore, Williams, Massey, Johnston, Rutherford, Gray and Spier, Richmond; Mrs. Pugh, New Orleans; Cheney and Gifford, Ashland; Mrs. Langston, California; Aspinwall, Washington; Dickson, New York; Webster, Ohio, and Bowers, Virginia; Messrs. Robinson, Mr.
Bald, Vancly, Edith Taylor, Warfield and Penny Crenshaw, Mayme Pickett Jones, Richmond; Godwin, Washington; George
